REPORT
OF
THE COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT

OF THE

Melbourne Mechanics' Institution,

AND SCHOOL OF ARTS,

FOR THE YEAR 1863.

THE COMMITTEE, in presenting the Annual Report of the proceedings of the past year, beg to draw attention to the fact, that although business in the city has continued in a very depressed state, and many of the old members having left the city or the colony, the revenue of the Institution has continued very nearly stationary for the last three years.

By the Abstract of the Treasurer's account current for the year 1863, hereto annexed, you will perceive that the total amount of receipts for the year is £1325 1s. 4d. while the amount for 1862 was £1459 10s. 1d. The decrease arises in the sums received for class fees, which in 1862 were £215, and in 1863 were £101 0s. 6d. The total amount of the liabilities of the Institution on the 31st December was £451 11s. 5d., including amount due to members for Library Deposits; on the 31st December 1862, the liabilities were £508.

The estimated Income and Expenditure for 1864 have been fixed at the same rate as last year, which the Committee were able to realize with the exception of £15.

As will be seen by the accounts now presented, more attention has been devoted by the Committee to the Library and Reading Room during the past year.

Duplicate copies of all new and important Books have been added to the Library in order to meet the increasing demand for such works on the part of the members of the Institution.

The Committee have also made arrangements for the printing of a new Catalogue, tenders for which are now being received and will be proceeded with immediately.

The regular supply of latest dates of Newspapers by way of Marseilles has given very general satisfaction and the Committee recommend that the supply be permanently continued.

The death of Henry Langlands, Esq., who had been connected with the Institution for a number of years, caused a vacancy in the list of Trustees. The Committee found it necessary to fill up this office as speedily as possible, and they elected the Honorable Richard Heales in the room of Mr. Langlands. The importance of immediate action in this matter was felt by the Committee, whilst Mr. Foxton, one of the old Trustees, was in Melbourne, so as to enable the Conveyance from the old to the new trustees, to be completed without delay. The Committee are much indebted to Mr. Edwards and Mr. Gibbs, both members of the General Committee of Management, for their gratuitous services in attending to the conveyance of the property.

The number of members on the annual roll for the year 1863 is 569, whilst the number for 1862 was 600.

The number of new members who joined the Institution in 1863 was 176. The number of Life Members, is at present 126, and the Honorary Members 19.

The number of New Books added to the Library during the past year amounts to 286 volumes. There have also been added 115 volumes of periodicals, making a total of 401 volumes for the year.

The number of members borrowing books from the library of the Institution for the purpose of reading them at their own homes during 1863 was 352.

The library has been much frequented by the members during the past year for the object of consulting works of reference and new books received monthly by the mail.

The number of volumes in circulation during the year was 23,262, and the number of magazines during the same period was 5101.

The table below will show the total circulation of volumes and magazines since 1855 :—

	1855	1856	1857	1858	1859	1860	1861	1862	1863
Volumes	10,502	12,435	13,071	18,175	16,514	20,274	21,144	19,128	23,262
Magazines	—	1,010	2,075	2,117	2,038	3,443	4,523	5,093	5,101

The following table gives the circulation of volumes during the past year, according to the classification in the library :—

The number of Visitors introduced by members, in accordance with Rule 10, was 149.

LECTURES.

The Committee did not think it advisable to incur any expense with reference to Lectures during the past year, the attendance during the two previous years had been so small; they, however, made application to several gentlemen with a view of their giving lectures on some popular subjects, but were unsuccessful in their efforts.

CLASSES.

The Singing Classes under the superintendence of Mr. G. L. Allan, which have now been established several years, have continued to meet regularly throughout the year.

In the Elementary class, which meets on Thursdays, two courses of six months each have been satisfactorily completed and the number of members has averaged nearly 100. In this class the whole system of singing at sight is taught by pleasing and progressive steps from the first rudiments.

The upper class which consists principally of pupils who have passed through the elementary classes, meets on Mondays, and has had an attendance of about 60 members. Part-songs, glees, madrigals, &c. have been in constant practice. A fine selection of these were performed, by this class, at a Concert given on the 1st October, and was most favorably received by a large audience and by the press.

PHONOGRAPHY.

Two classes for the study of the art have been formed in the Institution during the past year, by the Victorian Phonetic Society, and have been conducted by Mr. James Kidgell, secretary to the Society, assisted by Mr. C. Tuten.

The first of these classes was commenced on the 20th March, extending over a period of three months, and was attended by 19 members.

On September 4th, a second class was commenced, which consisted of 10 members.

Since the latter course a class for Reporting practice has been held weekly, free to the members of the Institution.

It is in contemplation to start additional elementary classes at the close of the summer months.

DRAWING CLASSES.

With a view to offering popular, but sound elementary art instruction to the members of the Institution, engaged throughout the day, two evening Drawing classes will be shortly opened, of which due notice will be given.

These classes will meet on Tuesdays and Fridays at 7.30. p.m., and will be conducted by Mr. Edward M. Shew.

The instruction to be given is valuable and practical of its kind, The teacher appeals to those finer faculties of the mind, designed to take cognizance of form, magnitude, light and shade, color, &c., and aided by models and other well contrived appliances, succeeds in conveying to the minds of his pupils, by simple but convincing experimental illustrations, some knowledge of the beauty, order, and proportion which are present in works of nature and art. Such an attractive study as drawing, thus rationally approached, might become beneficial in some degree to any desirous of improvement, whilst to all engaged in works of construction sound information of this kind should be deemed well worthy attention.

In concluding this Report the committee regret that they have not been able to accomplish more in reducing the debts still owing by the Institution, something, however, has been effected during the past year, in the right direction by the clearing off all accounts bearing interest.

If the members of the Institution would endeavour to promote the welfare of the Institution by recommending their friends and acquaintances to join it, much more would, no doubt, be done by means of the increased revenue resulting from these efforts.
